

AMERICAN TOWNS IN CELEBRATION FOR JENNY LIND

To Honor Anniversary of Swedish Nightingale.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—America will pay tribute to Jenny Lind on October 6, the 100th anniversary of the birth of the Swedish Nightingale, whom P. T. Barnum brought to this country in 1850 on her spectacular concert tour of nearly two years. The centennial is to be commemorated throughout the music loving world. In Sweden, in England and in other countries where she sang, fitting plans are under way to honor the greatest singer of her time—the fine, noble-hearted woman, whose charity was as rare as her art.

Her admirers in New York city will celebrate the event in an unique way. They will give an historical concert—reproduce the first concert Jenny Lind gave in this country, bringing back the stage picture and atmosphere of that memorable night of September 11, 1850. The same program will be given. The proceeds of the concert will be given to the same charitable institutions to which Jenny Lind gave the proceeds of the original concert.

Frieda Hempel will appear in the role of her famous predecessor. She will wear an exact copy of the gown worn by the 19th century diva; will sing the same arias, and play her own accompaniments to the same piano. Jenny Lind played them—a piano autographed by the Swedish Nightingale on the night of her debut.

The centennial concert will be given in Carnegie Hall on the evening of October 6, Castle Garden, the scene of Jenny Lind's first American triumph, has been transformed into the Aquarium and thus is deprived of the honor of housing another memorable audience.

It is contemplated to hold a centennial exhibit, however, in the old circular building in Battery Park from October 1 to October 10. Many of Jenny Lind's personal belongings and interesting relics associated with her tour here will be shown. The old concert grand piano will have its place of honor.

On the afternoon of October 6, the park commissioners of New York city will present to the Aquarium a marble bust of Jenny Lind and a portrait of the famous singer, both made for her when she was in this country.

Other American cities where Jenny Lind sang are arranging to celebrate the day.

Jenny Lind was born on Stockholm of humble parents. She sang from childhood and famous teachers became interested in her. At 12, her voice entirely failed. Four years later it came back and her remarkable career began. Her first operatic role was Alice in Meyerbeer's "Robert le Diable." Having been acclaimed in her own country and in Norway, she carried her conquests to the continent and to England.

She was probably the most talked of persons in public life in all Europe when Barnum, without having seen her or heard her, persuaded her to make a tour of the United States. No sooner was the contract signed than the new impostor, according to his autobiography, "began to prepare the public mind for the reception of the great songstress."

The steamer Atlantic that brought her to this country, was saluted at Sandy Hook and again as she plowed up the Narrows. Forty thousand people assembled at the landing and on the surrounding piers to greet her. Triumphant arches marked her pathway. Crowds surged around her hotel and clamored for her appearance. Auctions for the sale of tickets brought thousands of buyers. Genin, a hatter—"a mad Hatter" they called him—paid $225 for the first New York ticket. His unheard-of extravagance made him famous. The highest price paid for a single ticket was in Providence where the bit of pasteboard was knocked down to Colonel Ross for $650.

ANOTHER IND. BUSINESS MAN PRAISES TANLAC

Jos. Kennedy Says It Freed
Him of Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble After Everything Else Had Failed.

"I believe in giving everything its due and I want to say right now that I just can't praise Tanlac too highly for what it has done for me," was the statement made by Joseph F. Kennedy, the well known cigar dealer of 644 N. Center st., Terre Haute, Ind., recently. Mr. Kennedy is popular both in business and fraternal order circles.

"For the past three years, that is until Tanlac straightened me up, I have hardly had a well day on account of my stomach, kidneys and rheumatism. My food just seemed to lodge right in the pit of my stomach and remain there like a lump of lead. I would blot terribly and have pains that fairly doubled me up."

"My kidneys bothered me nearly all the time and my back pained me so it was an effort for me to bend over and straighten up. My head ached fearfully, especially in the afternoon, and if I attempted to do any work that required stooping I got so dizzy and faint I had to leave the job unfinished."

"I also suffered with rheumatism in my arms and legs, which got so bad at times I couldn't even wait on my customers or look after the store. At times I couldn't even put on my overcoat or do anything that required much use of my arms. I had tried nearly everything, it seems to me, but got no results and my prospects of getting rid of my troubles were not very bright to say the least of it."

"But one day I read a statement from a man who had been relieved of troubles like mine by taking Tanlac. Well, sir, his statement described my case almost to a tee, so I immediately bought a bottle of Tanlac and I finished taking it feeling considerably improved."

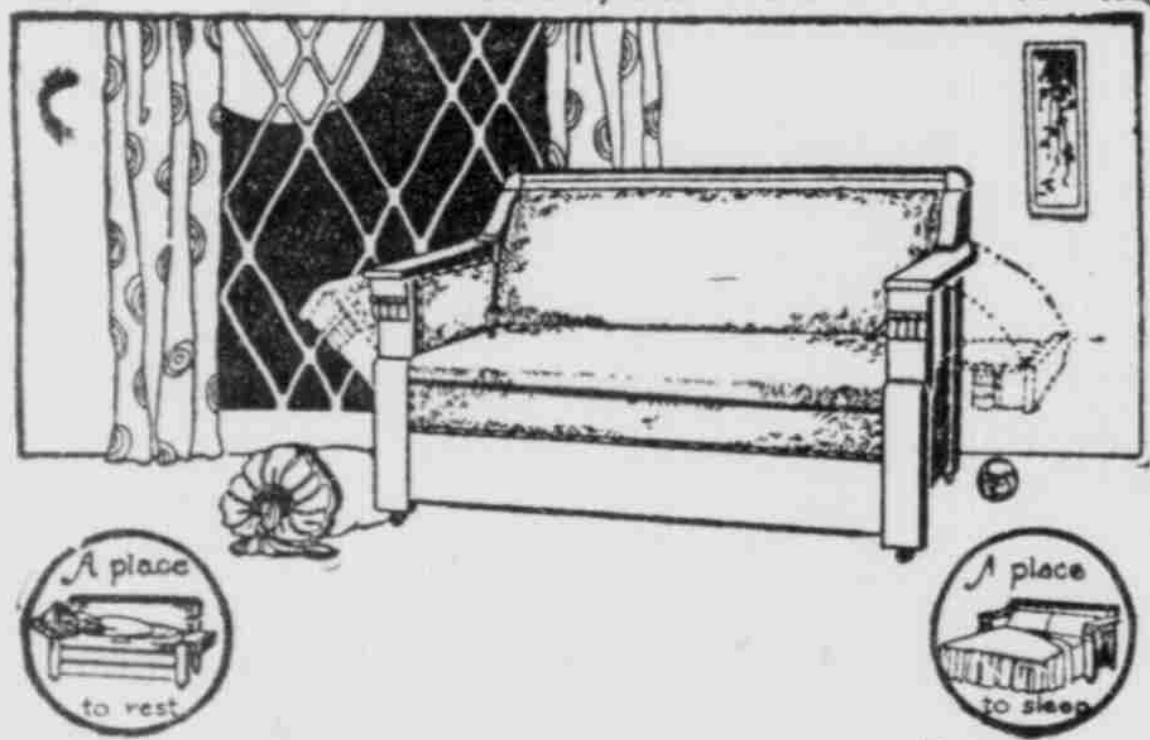

"Well, to put it all in as few words as possible, I have taken five bottles of Tanlac now and my stomach is in such splendid condition that I can eat just anything and never feel a touch of indigestion. The pains have all disappeared from my back and my kidneys no longer bother me."

"My business is a pleasure to me now, for I am no longer troubled with headaches, dizziness or rheumatism. In fact, my improvement has been so marked that many of my friends have asked me what has brought about the change, and I don't hesitate to tell them that it's all due to Tanlac. If I could speak with everybody personally, who is suffering like I was I would certainly advise them to lose no time in getting Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in South Bend at the Central Drug Store Public Drug Store, Landon's Pharmacy and Wetzel's Cut Rate Drug Store; and in Mishawaka at the Red Cross Pharmacy.

When Heller Says It's Oak, It's Oak

About knowing your store

There is much confusion in the furniture business these days. It is impossible to judge values as you did before the war.

But you have one unchanging thing to guide you in your buying; the integrity of honest merchants.

We know the value of woods, of coverings, of labor. We know, and pass on to you our knowledge of values. We do not urge you to buy when in our store, but we do ask that you, in justice to yourself as well as us, consider and compare quality with price, when you shop around.

Also, we ask you to remember the Heller policy—you are not allowed to take chances of not being fully satisfied with what you buy here. If furniture selected does not look as well in your home as you thought it would when you saw it in the store, you can return it and make a new selection. That's one of the things—one of the policies—that has made our success possible.
